CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS*ANNUAL REPORT STATISTICAL APPENDIX 2004–05

The Department of Consumer Affairs (DCA) is one of the primary consumer protection resources for Californians. We provide information to help consumers understand how they can protect themselves from scams and fraud, and what steps they can take if they find themselves victims of such crimes. DCA also protects professionals from unfair and unethical business practices.

DCA's regulatory boards and bureaus license, register, certify, permit or approve individuals or businesses according to qualifications established by legislation and regulations. Some programs authorize other organizations to provide services associated with the entity's purpose such as education of licensees or direct services to consumers. DCA's regulatory entities also investigate complaints and discipline those who violate practice requirements.

The Annual Report helps to monitor DCA's accomplishments by providing numerical summaries for each regulatory entity's licensing, examination, and enforcement processes. This enables individual regulatory programs and DCA to track year-to-year changes within the programs as well as differences between programs. The resulting data inform program and administrative decisions.

The Annual Report provides a descriptive overview of all licensing and enforcement action statistics as well as data showing costs and recovery to consumers and boards stemming from various investigations.

INTERPRETING STATISTICAL INFORMATION:

- Reporting practices among boards and bureaus are not exactly the same because of different legislative mandates for each regulatory program. Because of this difference, not all categories of data apply to all programs. When a particular survey question does not apply to a given program, there is no data to report, so the response is designated as "n/a" for "not applicable."

- Other data may not be reported because a program does not have the capability to track the information or because of electronic system deficiencies, so the response is designated as "NDA" for "no data available." In some instances, a program will have the total number for a given category without having specific numbers broken down into sub-categories.
- Because of the nature of the database, numbers for data under "Complaints" and "Investigations" may have been collected in different fiscal years. As a result, these types of categories often cannot be combined for summary data.
- The term "License Status" is used generically to encompass all of the license statuses used by DCA. These "License Status" categories encompass "Licenses and Registrations," "Certificates and Permits," and "Approvals."
